

Hakan Őengöl, M.Sc.

Hakan Őengöl graduated from Dokuz Eylül University Civil Engineering Department in 2001 and took his M.Sc. degree from Ege University, Faculty of Civil Engineering, Construction Materials Department in 2005. Between 1999 and 2002, he worked for Mahir Vural Construction and Turvar Construction Company just for improving himself. In 2002, he started to work for Intek Construction Company as Business Development Executive. Market analysis, coordinating of sites and site organisation were under his responsibilities. He participated in the construction of İzmir Nergis railway underground station and amount of many infrastructure projects. And also he was responsible for strengthing projects until 2008. Between 2008 and 2010, he worked for Mepaş Yapı Company as Business Development Manager. During this period, he was responsible for domestic sites, international sites and managing of the projects, such as, the factory construction of HIPP GEORGIA in Georgia, ÇAKMAKTEPE ENERGY Station Construction in İzmir, Steel construction of ALFATEH UNIVERSITY amount of 6 warehouse and 4 concrete structures in Libya. In spite of these works, he was responsible for marketing and selling of roofing products (Izocam panels) and steel construction accessories. Starting from June 2010, he is working for Sika Construction Chemicals as Marketing Department Executive. Sika Construction Chemicals A.Ő. is a multinational company that is related with construction chemicals. He is responsible for all marketing bussiness of each target markets in Sika Turkey. Brand management, ESPRESS (reduction of claims), product management process, guarantee process, legal issues, social media and website management, internal communications, technical training organisations, specification selling, advertising for products (new or existing), dealers meeting organisations, visual and print documentation, technical supporting, bussiness development are also under his responsibilities.