

Muammer Akgün, M.Sc.

Muammer Akgün graduated from Mechanical Engineering Faculty of Yıldız Technical University in 1990 and graduated from Science Institute Mechanical Engineering Energy Department of Yıldız Technical University as a mechanical engineer with a master of science degree in 1995. He started working on the PhD programme however he broke with his studies in the thesis study. He worked as a research assistant in Mechanical Engineering Faculty of Yıldız Technical University between 1992-1998, as the head of R&D Department in Universal boiler company between 1998-2005, as the head Sales&Marketing Department in Universal boiler company between 2005-2009 and as the head of Sales&Marketing Department in Emel boiler company between 2009-2013. He's been working in Bacader as the General Coordinator since 2013. He is the writer of six chapters of the book "Heating Systems with steam, thermal oil & hot water" which is published by the Chamber of Mechanical Engineers, a chapter of the book "Industrial Boilers" published by ISKAV. He is also the editor of the book "Heating Systems with steam, thermal oil & hot water". He contributed to the publication of "The Guide Book of Building Material Regulations" with the IMSAD commission of Building Materials and "The Dictionary of Sustainable Building Materials" with the commission of Eco-friendly Building Materials. He has written numerous articles & technical essays. Also he has been writing columns in a sectoral journal for 2 years.