

Prof. Dr. Sinan Mert Şener

Sinan Mert Şener graduated from Istanbul Technical University, Faculty of Architecture in 1982. He has got his Architecture MS Degree in 1984 and PHD Degree in 1993 from ITU Social Science Institute. He has worked as Assistant Professor in Dept. of Architecture Faculty of Architecture between 1994-1995 and he was appointed as Associate Professor in Department of Architecture at ITU in 1997. He was rewarded the “Young researcher Scholarship” from ITU Foundation to complete his Post Doc. Degree in Carnegie Mellon University at Pittsburgh, PA till Nov. 1999. He was also rewarded Young Leader Researchers scholarship program by Japan Foreign Ministry. Dr. Şener was appointed to a Professorship at ITU Faculty of Architecture on Jan.2011. He was elected as the Faculty Dean of ITU Faculty of Architecture on November 2012. He published two books, many science articles in international architectural journals and published over 26 international congress papers on architectural design computing research issues, post disaster shelters, and disaster management research areas. He also won 16 national architectural competition degree and mentions between 1990-2004. He has been a jury member for 12 times nationwide architectural design competitions. He has prepared many mixed-use buildings, housing settlements, special building designs such as VTS towers, urban design and university campus projects and almost all of them was built.